"ImaginAction" is a group exhibition curated by Stefania Carrozzini, curator based in Milan, and New York, featured by twelve artists from Italy, USA, Austria. The exhibition is composed of 31 artworks: photographs, paintings and etchings.

The artists developed the idea of ImaginAction looking into the ordinary life, and into their own personal visual experiences, exploring relationships between chance and control. In this exhibition we can find different expressive languages, assemblages, photographs, works involving the transformation of non-art objects, imaginary worlds in which anything can happen, fantastic atmospheres, different ways of seeing the world which goes beyond the visible: a search for the poetic meaning of nature and the strength of emotions through color and light. All of the artists focused on representing time and space where they can act and express their imagination through their creativity revealing the dialectic of life.

Put together Imagination into Action it means explore the process of creativity through confrontation and interpretation of reality.

The works aim to show how individual artists from different backgrounds act their imagination through different ways giving a sense of strength, emotion and immediacy.
